

A detailed cross-sectional diagram of a gear pump assembly. The diagram shows two meshing gears: a larger grey gear (1) and a smaller blue gear (2). The grey gear has a central hub with four screws (4) and a central shaft (5). The blue gear is mounted on a shaft (7) and has a label (3) on its side. The entire assembly is housed within a casing (6). Numbered callouts 1 through 7 point to the following components:

- 1: Large grey gear
- 2: Small blue gear
- 3: Label on the blue gear
- 4: Screws on the grey gear hub
- 5: Shaft of the grey gear
- 6: Housing/casing
- 7: Shaft of the blue gear
